Dear Timothy,

Thank you for your fax which I received on my return home.

Delighted to hear from you again. I would of course be very happy to meet with you, Paul, and any of your colleagues.

I will be in London for the Wednesday-Thursday of that week, and in Belfast most of the rest of the time.

Since I can be difficult to get, it may be worthwhile to contact my parliamentary assistant Niall Johnston at my desk in the Lords (+ 44-171-219-5050) through the Liberal Democrat Whip's Office in the Lords (+ 44-171-219-2124) or on his mobile, (+ 44-973-561175), or leave a message at my home (+ 44-1232-793097), and if I am not there, a number where I can get back to you.

Looking forward to seeing you again.
