William Longmeier, residing at Yehm a station on the Pacific division of the Northern Pacific railroad a short dis- tance out of Tacoma was yesterday the victim of a daring robbery. Yester- day morning, while sitting in his store balancing his ledger, Longmeier was approached by two well-dressed men, who represented themselves as desirous of ascending Mount Tacoma and stated that they were in quest of a guide to assist them in making the trip. Long- meier in answering the questions had occasion to turn for a moment to his desk, when suddenly he was hit on the side of the head with a blunt instru- ment, which felled him to the floor, rendering him unconscious. When he recovered consciousness his visitors had ded, and with them $1,500 in cash and promissory notes amounting to $3,500. Mr. Longmeier instantly gave the alarm and the daring thieves were they had purchased tickets to Port- and. A full description of the robbers has been given to Sheriff Price, and that officer has detailed several of his populies to scour the country. Mr. Longmeier's injuries are not regarded a very dangerous.	<section-header><section-header>Office and Parlo Reading</section-header></section-header>

Whereas, grave doubts now exist and have existed in the leg- islative and judicial mind since the day when Moses was found in the bull- rushes, as to what constitutes tide- lands in law and in fact; therefore, in order to settle that question forever, it is hereby declared that the true defini- tion of the term tide lands as estab- lished by immemorial usage, on Puget Sound. is " muck-a-muck illahe" or clam lands, and that all lands and wa- ters producing clams shall be held and treated as tide lands, as hereinafter provided. SEC. —. Whereas, Said lands have been exclusively claimed and held by the old settlers by right of discovery and occupation as tenants in common for fishery and pasturage for a time to which the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, the title of said claimants to said lands in fee simple is hereby acknowledged. Sec. — Seid tide or clam lands	or may be done, under this article. SEC. —. It shall be the duty of the National Guard of Washington to maintain the old settlers in their rights; and for that purpose the arti- cle on Military Affairs shall be consid- ered in force in all of its provisions just as it read before it was disembow- eled in the Committee of the Whole. SEC. —. As tide or clam lands can- not be improved for the use of old set- tlers, by changing them from their na- tural condition it shall be the duty of the Governor to remove all buildings, wharves, fillings and other erections, therefrom, and as near as may be, re- store said lots to their primitive con- dition; and in case the so-called im- provements shall have exterminated the clams, upon any such lot or lots, it shall be the duty of the Governor to sow, or cause to be sowed, broadcast, upon said lot, or lots, clams, at the rate of twenty-five bushels to the acre, at the expense of the State. BIGELOW, And 300 others. I believe the above is founded on justice, and presents the only practi- cal solution of the tide-land question, but would have been better pleased with the plan if the distribution of lots had been slightly extended. R. S. GREENE. We concur in the above, THOMAS BURKE, ORANGE JACOBS, J. R. LEWIS,	Ledger, 3d instant. William Longmeier, residing at Yehm a station on the Pacific division of the Northern Pacific railroad a short dis- tance out of Tacoma was yesterday the victim of a daring robbery. Yester- day morning, while sitting in his store balancing his ledger, Longmeier was approached by two well-dressed men, who represented themselves as desirous of ascending Mount Tacoma and stated that they were in quest of a guide to assist them in making the trip. Long- meier in answering the questions had occasion to turn for a moment to his desk, when suddenly he was hit on the side of the head with a blunt instru- ment, which felled him to the floor, rendering him unconscious. When he recovered consciousness his visitors had fed, and with them $1,500 in cash and promissory notes amounting to $3,500. Mr. Longmeier instantly gave the alarm and the daring thieves were tracked to Media, where it was found they had purchased tickets to Port- and. A full description of the robbers has been given to Sheriff Price, and that officer has detailed several of his deputies to scour the country. Mr. Longmeier's injuries are not regarded as usery dangerous.	<section-header><section-header><section-header></section-header></section-header></section-header>
