Jean Dant,

JOINT DECLARATION

I am sorry that you were not at the party yesterday. In the rush of the previous night, I forgot to ask whether you would be coming; I hope you did not stay away on that account, but someone told me yesterday that you had a Ministerial visit.

I enclose a couple of letters, to the Taoiseach and Martin Mansergh. I would be most grateful if someone from the Embassy could drop them round fairly quickly.

yours etc.

Roderic
